

Radio Angel Records

Radio Angel Records was started in July of 2000 by Randall Furlong and Caroline Bowles. “We were looking for a way to promote Caroline’s music as well as other Christian independent artists.

We concentrate on music that is non-mainstream. “We like to think that Radio Angel Records is finding unique sounds in the already-flooded world of Contemporary Christian music.”

We are convinced that melody communicates across cultural barriers. The tunes we chose for both Wondrous Love and Christmas Carols have slipped through various sets of lyrics, across national boundaries and, in some cases, across more than a thousand years. When they appear in recently published hymnals, the names of the writers of these hymns have often been omitted, and the works dubbed simply "Traditional" or attributed to "Anonymous." Where possible, after some research, we have attempted to give credit to the lyricists and composers.

We recorded these songs in order to reinterpret them, to make them accessible to 21st century listeners. Worship in song connects us with all who have gone before us, who sang these hymns in their time, and who surround us like a great cloud of witnesses, encouraging us and urging us on in our lives. The church is composed not only of those worshipers of Christ now alive, but of all those who have ever lived, because all are alive to God. The writers of these hymns have the otherworldly, at times mystical, focus of people whose world was less certain and whose earthly attachments were less firm. It is our hope that they will encourage you in your love of Jesus Christ, and inspire you to contemplation of His love for you.
